2 Significant accounting policies

The principal accounting policies adopted in the preparation of these financial statements are set out below:

2.1 Basis of preparation

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the Company's principal accounting policies as described in Note 2 of these financial statements which have been prepared under the historical cost convention except investment in associates and interest in joint ventures (Note 2.2).

There are no comprehensive set of accounting standards in Laos ("LAS"). LAS is currently under development by the Accounting Department and Lao Chamber of Professional Accountants and Auditor ("LCPAA"). At the present, companies apply Laos Accounting Manual (LAM) issued by the Ministry of Finance. LAM is a set of instructions based on accrual basis of accounting. Accordingly there are significant difference between LAM and International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS). These areas of significant differences are, for example, Property, plant and equipment, leases, employee benefit, the effects of changes in foreign exchange rate, income tax and deferred income tax, financial instruments, consolidated and separate financial statements, associates, joint ventures, borrowing cost and pre-operation cost (Note 2.15). The accounting principles applied may materially differ from generally accepted accounting principles including International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") adopted in certain countries and jurisdictions.

In Lao PDR, there are no accounting standards and guidelines applicable for certain areas such as investments in associates and interests in joint ventures. In the absence of the accounting standards concerned, the Company has decided to adopt certain accounting policies e.g. equity accounting method for its investments as described in Note 2.2 in which management believe it is in line with international practices.

The preparation of financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the amounts of revenues and expenses in the reported periods. Although these estimates are based on management's best knowledge of current events and actions, actual results may differ from those estimates.

The Company presents statements of income for the three-month periods ended 31 December 2015 and 2014 under Note 27 as supplementary information. This is in accordance with the reporting and disclosure regulation no.007/SECO, dated 3 April 2014 issued by Lao Securities and Exchange Commission Office.

2.2 Investments in associates and interests in joint ventures

Associates

Associates are all entities over which the Company has significant influence but not control, generally accompanying a shareholding of between 20% and 50% of the voting rights. Investments in associates are accounted for using the equity method of accounting and are initially recognised at cost.

The Company's share of its associates' post-acquisition profits or losses is recognised in the profit or loss. The cumulative post-acquisition movements are adjusted against the carrying amount of the investment. When the Company's share of losses in an associate equals or exceeds its interest in the associate, including any other unsecured receivables, the Company does not recognise further losses, unless it has incurred obligations or made payments on behalf of the associate.

Unrealised gains on transactions between the Company and its associates are eliminated to the extent of the Company's interest in the associates. Unrealised losses are also eliminated unless the transaction provides evidence of an impairment of the asset transferred.

Accounting policies of associates have been changed where necessary to ensure consistency with the policies adopted by the Company. Dilution gains and losses arising in investments in associates are recognised in the profit or loss.

A list of the Company's principal associates is set out in Note 5.1

Joint ventures

Interests in jointly controlled entities are entities over which the Company jointly controls, but which it does not control. Interests in joint ventures are accounted for by the equity method of accounting in the financial statements. Under this method the Company's share of the post-acquisition profits and losses of joint ventures is recognised in the profit or loss. The cumulative post-acquisition movements are adjusted against the carrying amount of the investment. When the Company's share of losses in an interest in a joint venture equals or exceeds its interest in the joint venture, the Company does not recognise further losses, unless it has incurred obligations or made payments on behalf of the joint venture.

Unrealised gains or losses on transactions between the Company and its joint ventures is eliminated to the extent of the Company's interests in the joint ventures, except that unrealised losses are also eliminated unless the transaction provides evidence of an impairment of the asset transferred.

Accounting policies of joint ventures have been changed where necessary to ensure consistency with the policies adopted by the Company. Dilution gains and losses arising in investments in joint ventures are recognised in the profit or loss.

A list of the Company's principal joint ventures is set out in Note 5.2

2. Accounting policies (continued)

2.3 Foreign currency translation

Items included in the financial statements are measured using Lao Kip (“Kip”).

Foreign currency transactions are translated into Kip using the exchange rates prevailing at the date of the transaction. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currency are translated into Kip at the exchange rates prevailing at the reporting date. Gains and losses resulting from the settlement of foreign currency transactions and from the translation of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are recognised in the statements of income.

For Associates and joint ventures, the results and financial position of associates and joint ventures entities (none of which has the currency of a hyper-inflationary economy) that have a presentation currency difference from the presentation currency of the Company are translated into the presentation currency as follows:

- Assets and liabilities for each statement of financial position presented are translated at the closing rate at the date of that statement of financial position;
- Income and expenses for statement of comprehensive income are translated at average exchange rates of the year; and
- All resulting exchange differences are recognised as a separate component of equity.

2.4 Spare parts and supplies

Spare parts and supplies are stated at the lower of cost or net realisable value. Cost is determined by the weighted average method. The cost of purchases comprises both the purchase price and costs directly attributable to the acquisition of the inventory, such as transportation charges, less all distributable discounts, allowances or rebates. Net realisable value is the price at which the inventories can be realised in the normal course of business after allowing for the costs of realisation. Allowance is made, where necessary for obsolete, slow moving and defective spare parts and supplies.

2.5 Assets under concession

Assets under concession comprise mainly building, hydroelectric dams, plant and machines are initially shown at net book value as at the transfer date from EDL (Note 1 b) and historical cost for assets acquired after 15 December 2010. Historical cost includes expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the items.

According to the concession agreement, the Company must transfer all assets for operating the projects as mentioned in the concession held by the Company to GOL at the end of concession period (Note 1 c i).

Subsequent costs are included in the carrying amount, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of the replaced part is derecognised. All other repair and maintenance expenses are charged to the income statement during the financial period in which they are incurred.

Assets under concession are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation is calculated on a straight-line basis over its expected useful life but not over than the concession period under related concession agreement which is 30 years. The annual rates used for this purpose by category of assets are set out below:

	Years
Buildings	4-30
Hydroelectric dams	20-30
Plant and machineries	10-30
Motor vehicles	6
Office equipment	9
Furniture and fixtures	10

The Company records depreciation as an expense for the period. When a long-term asset is retired, the Company will write-off both the asset and the related accumulated depreciation from the accounts and recognise any gain or loss from retirement of the asset in the statement of income.

The asset's carrying amount is written-down immediately to its recoverable amount if the asset's carrying amount is greater than its estimated recoverable amount (Note 2.6).

Gains or losses on disposals are determined by comparing the proceeds with the carrying amount and are recognised within 'Other (losses)/gains – net' in profit or loss.

2.6 Impairment of assets

Assets that are subject to depreciation are reviewed for impairment. Assets that are subject to depreciation are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. An impairment loss is recognised for the amount by which the carrying amount of the assets exceeds its recoverable amount which is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs to sell and value in use. For the purposes of assessing impairment, assets are grouped at the lowest level for which there are separately identifiable cash flows. Assets other than goodwill that suffered an impairment are reviewed for possible reversal of the impairment at each reporting date.

2.7 Borrowings

Borrowings are recognised at the original value of proceeds received, net of transaction costs incurred, if any.

Borrowings are classified as current liabilities unless the Company has an unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability for at least 12 months after the balance sheet date.

2.8 Debentures

Debentures issued at face value and are recognised at the value of proceeds received, net of transaction costs incurred. Debentures are subsequently stated at amortised cost; any difference between proceeds (net of transaction costs) and the redemption value is recognised in profit or loss over the period of the borrowings using the effective yield method.

Transactions costs are direct cost on issuing debentures which mainly consist of financial advisor fees, lawyer fees and regulator fee. These costs were recorded as deferred assets and will be amortised to statement of income over the term of debentures.

Debentures are classified as current liabilities unless the Company has an unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability for at least 12 months after the end of reporting date.

2.9 Leases - where a Company is the lessee

Leases not transferring a significant portion of the risks and rewards of ownership to the lessee are classified as operating leases. Payments made under operating leases (net of any incentives received from the lessor) are charged to the statement of income on a straight-line basis over the period of the lease.

When an operating lease is terminated before the lease period has expired, any payment required to be made to the lessor by way of penalty is recognised as an expense in the period in which termination takes place.
